AdvancedWare is Pleased to Present AWXML for ManFact - $7,500

With AWXML, your company will be able to automatically exchange XML transactions with your customers which are fully integrated with your ManFact business system. Processing transactions via XML is a very efficient way of doing business. And with AWXML, it's easy because the integration with ManFact is built in. AWXML handles a variety of transactions including incoming Orders from your Customers, Distributors, Corporate Web sites, and even Web Marketplaces. And because AWXML does Real-Time validations, you can rest assured that only accurate Orders will be updated into your ManFact system.

Key Features of AWXML:

1. All XML transactions are automatically integrated into your ManFact system so no re-keying or manual processing is required.
2. Incoming XML Orders are processed in Real-Time and XML Order Confirmations are automatically transmitted to your Customer in Real-Time.
3. With AWXML, the Orders processed will execute all of your business rules (file-time logic, etc) that you have in place for ManFact. This will insure that all orders processed into your system are fully validated.
4. AWXML logs all transactions and the Real-Time validation routines will even automatically email you if any problems with the transaction occur such as the Customer transmitting an invalid Part Number.
5. AWXML works with any release of ManFact.
